Class Hours:

Calculator: TI-84 or equivalent. If you have another model, you will be responsible for knowing how to use it. Bring your calculator to class each day and to the Uniform Exams.

Course Web Site: http://www.math.lsa.umich.edu/courses/105
This site has important information including the Student Guide and homework assignments. It will be updated with exam rooms and other information as the semester progresses.

Class expectations: It is expected that you will try your hardest and focus on the work while you are in class. This is out of respect to yourself, your fellow classmates, the material, and the instructor. It is expected that you will cooperate with your fellow classmates and spend time thinking about the math as well as how to explain the math.

Homework: Daily homework will be assigned from each section that we cover. The homework is done online at http://instruct.math.lsa.umich.edu/courses/105/webhw/. The due dates will be posted on the website. In addition, you will be given regular group assignments and 50% of your section performance will be based on these group assignments. We will discuss the group homework arrangements further in class.

Quizzes: There will be short weekly quizzes, but no make-ups. I will drop the lowest two quiz scores when I compute your final grade. Quizzes count toward 50% of your section performance.

Uniform Exams:

Dates for the exams are fixed. Generally only students with a regularly scheduled class are accommodated at an alternate time. Anyone with a regularly scheduled class during these exam times should let me know as soon as possible. Make plans now to be certain these dates are in your calendar. Note that travel is not a sufficient excuse to have an exam scheduled on a different day.

Gateway Exam: To help you reinforce prerequisite concepts, we require you to pass a proctored exam by mid-October. The exact deadline and more details are available on the course website. You are strongly encouraged to take a practice exam as soon as possible. You can take the practice exam anywhere with internet access, including your dormitory room.

Grading Policy: All sections of Math 105 use the same grading guidelines to standardize the evaluation process. A complete explanation of the grading policy is given in the Student Guide. We will have a short quiz over the Student Guide during the first week of class. See http://www.math.lsa.umich.edu/courses/sg/ However, for the exact composition of the uniform component, the course website takes precedence over those listed in the Student Guide.

Math Lab: Free tutoring from the Mathematics Department.
